

THE LEGACY CASEGOOD SERIES

H B F

Designed by HBF's Kevin Stark, the Legacy Casegood Series draws inspiration from Thomas Chippendale's definitive use of moldings and frets. The contemporary use of carved molding and veneer inlays creates remarkable versatility in a fresh new approach to a classic technique. The series, available in a variety of veneers, offers a myriad selection of both standard and custom casegood pieces to creatively design today's office.

The Legacy Casegood Series

01 Many office configurations may be created using the extensive offering of Legacy casegood components. This standard credenza and overhead storage is enhanced by a capsule shaped desk extension. These pieces feature the "Cathedral" carved wood molding inlay.

02 Legacy bow front desk complemented by a standard credenza. These pieces are shown without an inlay. Forsyth hardware in gloss black powder coat finish provides a distinctive look for this executive office.

03 Legacy desk connected by a bridge to a single pedestal credenza with overhead storage and tack board.

04 Legacy reception desks make an elegant statement as clients enter your office environment. In addition to the bow front transaction shelf the reception desk shown here features the "Accordian" carved wood inlay in a contrasting finish. Other standard reception desks are available as well as custom configurations.

05 | Single pedestal Legacy desk with recessed modesty panel; the single pedestal return expands the work surface and storage capabilities.

06 | A work wall and table desk depict the flexibility and attention to detail offered within the Legacy line of products.

07 | Legacy Conference Series incorporates the flexible design details found in HBF's Legacy Casagood Series, providing conference solutions for meeting and executive areas.
